

This image shows a full page of blank graph paper. It features a uniform grid of small squares formed by thin black lines. The grid covers the entire area of the page, leaving no margins or additional markings. There are 20 columns and 20 rows of squares.